

6th Global Housing Finance Conference #Housing4All

May 28-29, 2014*

Preston Auditorium | World Bank | Washington, D.C.

(*Plus preconference workshops on May 27, 2014)

The World Bank Group will hold its 6th Global Housing Finance Conference on May 28-29, 2014. Jointly hosted by the World Bank and the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the underlying theme of the conference is on how to expand affordable housing for all. We will explore and, in some instances, showcase new and innovative ideas on how to finance affordable housing development and how to ensure homeowners can access adequate finance to meet their housing needs.

Expanding access to housing will require full participation of the private and public sector, with each playing complementary roles. This is why our program this year incorporates robust discussions relevant to both public and private sector participants.

Several sessions are also planned for the day prior to the conference, May 27, to dive deeper into particular topics. These will include some closed-door meetings, which would be on an invitation-only basis, and some open events to facilitate a broader and deeper discussion. We will provide additional information upon registration.

As in previous years, the conference attracts an audience of officials and practitioners from the developed countries and emerging markets. The principal aim of the Conference is to exchange views and experiences and derive the key operational conclusions for policy makers and housing finance practitioners. The conference creates awareness of the major challenges in developing or strengthening the housing finance markets and seeks cooperation for better solutions.

We look forward to seeing you in May!
